A Woman Hero.

Some might doubt, at first thought, that it was possible for a woman to enlist as a soldier, and maintain her disguise through all the vicissitudes of a soldier's life. But authenticated facts prove that such has often been the case. Let us tell the story of Deborah Sampson:

Deborah Sampson was born in Plymouth, Massachusetts, of humble parentage. She grew up uncared for and obscure. As the wild fire of the Revolutionary spirit began to spread through the land, her spirit caught the flame. Like so many women at the present day. She acquired a contempt for the home duties prescribed by the nature and custom of her sex, and resolved to enlist as a soldier, and to share the tumult and dangers of the battle and and camp.

Saving the money she obtained by teaching, she gradually purchased piece by piece the attire of a man—hiding the articles in a hay-stack until she had acquired a complete suit. Then she disappeared as Deborah Sampson, and appeared as a man, enlisting in the army as Robert Shirtleffe.

She was tall and well proportioned, and is said to have looked quite will in her male attire, being more comely in that than as a woman. The soldiers noted her want of beard, however, and were in the habit of calling her "Mollie," though they never suspected her sex.

She made an excellent soldier, being prompt to the call of duty, and brave in the hour of battle. Twice she was wounded, and in both cases managed to preserve her secret. Being seized afterward with a brain fever, she was taken to the bed, to the hospital, and one morning reported dead. The doctor however, upon being told, doubted the fact; and going to the bed, placed his hand upon her heart, when, to his astonishment, he found that his patient was not a man but a woman, and still living.

The physician—Dr. Birney, of Philadilphia—kept her secret, not even saying a word to his family or herself about it; and as soon as she could be removed, had her taken to his own house, were she received every care.

And here comes in a still more romantic episode. The doctor's niece, whom he allowed to become the nurse of the young soldier, speedily grew enamored of the supposed young man. As she was herself in a higher position in life, and the heiress to a considerable amount of property, she thought it not unbecoming to make the first advances, and finally to declare her love, offering to provide the means for "Robert's education preparatory to a marriage."

It was a dilemma. To declare that she was a woman would be to bring shame and mortification to the breast of this innocent and generous girl. So Deborah declined as tenderly as she could the proffered obligation— merely saying that she hoped that they would some day meet under happier auspices.

When Deborah had recovered sufficiently to join the army, the doctor placed in her hand a letter directed to General Washington, and requesting her to deliver it in person. Now for the first time she began to feel certain that her benefactor knew her secret.

Washington read the letter, and after a short interval, handed her in silence a discharge from the service, putting into her hands at the same time a note containing a few brief words of advice, and a sum of money sufficient to bear her expenses to her native place. "How thankful," she said, in after life, "was I to that great and good man, who so kindly spared my feelings. He saw me ready to sink into the earth for shame. A word of reproach from him would have crushed me like a falling rock. But he said nothing, and I blessed him!"

That her strange, masculine career had not blunted her feminine feeling seems to be proven by the fact that she afterward married Mr. Benjamin Gannett, and lived to a green old age, following the usual duties of a woman's life. Doubtful many such instances occur in all great wars—10 unknown, for every one that is brought to light.

English Girls.

A correspondent of the Hartford Times writing from a Swiss inn says: "A few days ago, just at dusk, after a cold rain had set in, two English girls and their handsome gray-haired father arrived. They were cold and damp, and the hotel was cold and damp, and as we sat by our blazing fire and heard them go into their cold rooms we pitied them so much that we opened our door and invited them to share our warmth and comfort—so they came in, and we chatted together all the evening. Those two bright, fresh-looking girls sat calmly in their chairs and told us they had crossed from Meiringen to the Rhone Glacier over the Grimsel on foot, the day before, through a foot of snow—had walked nine miles down the valley that morning, and then had climbed up all the way from Viesch to the hotel on foot in rain that afternoon. We looked at them aghast, and murmured 'Tired?' 'Oh no,' they briskly chorused; and indeed they did look most revoltingly fresh and pretty. When we appeared in the morning, father (who always comes in to breakfast from out of doors, with a blast of cold air, very much as if he had slept on the nearest glacier) announced that 'those English girls started to walk up to the summit of the Eggischhorn two hours ago, and are coming back in time to cross the Aletsch glacier to go to the Belle Alp for the night!' Before long they came in, brisk and rosy as usual: 'Oh no! not tired at all!'—and without waiting for anything more than a lunch, were off again. We groaned in spirit as we saw them disappear around a promontory."

—A Chicago man closed his testimony in his action for divorce from his wife as follows: "I don't want to say anything against the woman, Judge, but I wish you could live with her a little while."

—In one of the courts, lately, there was a long and heated discussion between the counsel as to whether a witness should be allowed to answer the following question: "What did Mary say?" Three judges took nearly an hour to decide the point, and at last allowed it. The question was put to the witness by the defence, and the reply was short and sweet —"Not a word."

Russian Houses in Winter.

The windows are invariably double, and the space between the sashes invariably covered with a layer of fine sand, designed to absorb moisture and prevent the frost from silvering the panes. Twisted horns of paper containing salt are set in it, and sometimes the sand is concealed by a bed of moss. There are no outside shutters or blinds, for they would be useless, since the windows remain closed all winter, being carefully filled in around the edges with cement. Heavy curtains of rich materials still further deaden the effect of the cold upon the glass, a substance much more permeable than is generally believed. Open fire places are rare; when they do exist, they are only used in spring and autumn. They are closed and filled with flowers—flowers which are a truly Russian luxury! The houses overflow with them; flowers receive you at the door, and go with you up the stairway; Irish ivies festoon balusters; jardinieres adorn the landings on every floor. In the embrasure of the windows, bananas spread out their broad silken leaves; talipot palms, magnolias, camelias growing like trees, mingle their blossoms with the gilded volutes of the cornices; orchids hover like butterflies around lamp-shades of crystal, porcelain, and curiously wrought terracotta. From horn shaped vases of Japanese porcelain or Bohemian glas, placed in the centre of a table at the corner of a side-board, spring sheaves of superb exotics; and all this floral splendor thrives as in a hothouse; in the street you are at the pole; within doors you might believe yourself in the tropics.

Medicinal.

Dr. J. Walker's California Vinegar Bitters are a purely Vegetable preparation, made chiefly from the native herbs found on the lower ranges of the Sierra Nevada mountains of California, the medicinal properties of which are extracted therefrom without the use of Alcohol. The question is almost daily asked, 'What is the cause of the unparalleled success of VINEGAR BITTERS?" Our answer is, that they remove the cause of disease, and the patient recovers his health. They are the great blood purifier and a life-giving principle, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system. Never before in the history of the world has a medicine been compounded possessing the remarkable qualities of VINEGAR BITTERS in healing the sick of every disease man is heir to. They are a gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver and Visceral Organs in Bilious Diseases

The properties of DR. WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS are Aperient, Diaphoretic, Carminative, Nutritious, Laxative, Diuretic, Sedative, Counter-Irritant Sudorific, Alterative, and Anti-Bilious.

Grateful Thousands proclaim VINEGAR BITTERS the most wonderful Invigorant that ever sustained the sinking system.

No Person can take these Bitters according to directions, and remain long unwell, provided their bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and vital organs wasted beyond repair.

Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, which are so prevalent in the valleys of our great rivers throughout the United States, especially those of the Mississippi, Ohio, Missouri, Illinois, Tennessee, Cumberland, Arkansas, Red, Colorado, Brazos, Rio Grande, Pearl, Alabama, Mobile, Savannah, Roanoke, James, and many others, with their vast tributaries, throughout our entire country during the Summer and Autumn, and remarkably so during seasons of unusual heat and dryness, are invariably accompanied by extensive derangements of the stomach and liver, and other abdominal viscera. In their treatment, a purgative, exerting a powerful influence upon these various organs, is essentially necessary. There is no cathartic for the purpose equal to DR. J. WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS, as they will speedily remove the dark-colored viscid matter with which the bowels are loaded, at the same time stimulating the secretions of the liver, and generally restoring the healthy functions of the digestive organs.

Fortify the body against disease by purifying all its fluids with VINEGAR BITTERS. No epidemic can take hold of a system thus fore-armed.

Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the region of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offsprings of Dyspepsia. One bottle will prove a better guarantee of its merits than a lengthy advertisement.

Scrofula, or King's Evil, White Swellings, Ulcers, Erysipelas, Swelled Neck, Goitre, Scrofulous Inflammations, Indolent Inflammations, Mercurial Affections, Old Sores, Eruptions of the Skin, Sore Eyes, etc. In these, as in all other constitutional Diseases, WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS have shown their great curative powers in the most obstinate and intractable cases.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism, Gout, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have no equal. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood.

Mechanical Diseases.—Persons engaged in Paints and Minerals, such as Plumbers, Type-setters, Gold-beaters, and Miners, as they advance in life, are subject to paralysis of the Bowels. To guard against this, take a dose of WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS occasionally.

For Skin Diseases, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-worms, Scald-head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters.

Pin, Tape, and other Worms, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. No system of medicine, no vermifuges, no anthelmintics will free the system from worms like these Bitters.

For Female Complaints, in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood, or the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters display so decided an influence that improvement is soon perceptible.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions, or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it when it is foul; your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.
